Kennebec Savings Bank Announces New Board Member

Brian Tarbuck joins Board of Directors

Augusta, ME – Charles Hays, Jr., chair of the Kennebec Savings Bank Board of Directors, has announced the addition of Brian Tarbuck to the Bank's Board of Directors.

Tarbuck, a Professional Engineer, was promoted to general manager of the Greater Augusta Utility District (GAUD) in 2007 after serving as the assistant general manager for five years. Prior to joining GAUD, he worked as an engineer for the Maine Drinking Water Program. Tarbuck serves as commissioner of the New England Interstate Water Pollution Control Commission, is on the Maine Board of Licensure of Water System Operators, and is past president of the Maine Water Utilities Association. Tarbuck earned his Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering from Worcester Polytechnic Institute in Worcester, Massachusetts.

Active in the community, Tarbuck is a board member on the Augusta Board of Trade and served as its board president from 2018-2020. He is also vice president of the Kennebec Valley YMCA's board, a member of the school board for RSU #38 in Manchester, and a graduate of the Kennebec Leadership Institute. He lives in Readfield with his wife and two children.

"We are pleased to welcome Brian to the Kennebec Savings Bank Board of Directors," said Hays. "His extensive experience and strategic insight will undoubtedly enrich our leadership and help us meet the evolving needs of our customers and community."

Andrew Silsby, Kennebec Savings Bank President & CEO, added, "Brian's deep commitment to the community aligns well with our core values, and his wealth of expertise will be invaluable as we continue our commitment to delivering exceptional financial services and fostering community growth."
